President's Column

Amazing how this year has just sped along. I looked up and the AVMA meeting is upon us already

The national meeting is loaded with lots of CE for DVM's and technicians alike. Much like our monthly meetings thus far. These include legal issues in everyday veterinary practice, Chronic vomiting, Practical dermatology, arthritis pain control and a nice panel discussion on dental, surgical and, medicine topics as a Q and A.. We are very fortunate to have so much CE available to us for such a bargain price! Look for the coming events in this newsletter. Dr. Jennifer Finnegan, Dr. Stephan Hadley and Dr. Fred Froderman, as Members at Large, have put together a great line up of CE for our members. Speaking of excellent meetings we are deeply thankful for our underwriting sponsors for almost all our meetings. Please say thanks to them when you see a representative or doctor from them. They are: First Merchants Bank, VCA Specialty and Emergency Clinic, Animal Dermatology, Elanco, Med Vet Emergency and Specialty Hospital, Indy Vet Emergency and Specialty Hospital, CVCA Cardiac Care for Pets and, Sound Elkin Technologies.

We have been busy sponsoring our usual events and gifts with a couple additions. We gave a scholarship to a Purdue Veterinary student again this year and donated to Purdue's very successful Boiler Vet camp. This summer we sponsored several events at the Marion County fair and were a hole sponsor for the Indiana Animal Health golf outing. Thanks to Dr. Dave Fenoglio we were able to do a hole sponsorship for the Pets for Vets inaugural golf outing for our veterans. We try to make our professional organization known to the public and hope these touch many people on your behalf.

Last but not least we welcome Dr. Aaron Johnson (a past CIVMA president) to our CIVMA executive board as our new IVMA representative. We thank Dr. Peg Villanueva for her 3 years of dedicated service to our profession. November will bring our annual meeting and election of a new At Large member and new Secretary. Please consider one of these 2 positions as something you can do to return service to our profession.

I look forward to seeing you in upcoming CE meetings and perhaps at the AVMA. Have a great summer and enjoy the great Indiana summer weather.

Erik G. Tysklind, DVM, CIVMA President 2017

Meeting RSVPs

Just a reminder: Please make sure you do attend any event that you RSVP for or cancel at least 24 hours in advance. The best way is to do this by email to the member in charge of the meeting. Recently we have had an increasing number of no-shows causing us significant lost revenue. And some non verified RSVP which caused some crowding and upset guests. If we continue to have a large number of no-shows we may either have to charge a penalty fee if you RSVP and do not attend or raise membership costs. We hope we have to do neither. Thanks so much for your cooperation.

Banking Changes

The CIVMA is a long standing service organization which has grown over the many years. As we grew we also collected funds from various events and fund raisers. This left us with multiple banking institutions. This year we began the process of consolidating our funds to one banking institution. We will complete the transition this year to First Merchants.

2017 Meetings

Coming up in continuing education we have an Indy Vet doctor speaking at Cooper's Hawk on August 16th, a popular venue and always good topics from their doctors.

October 18th brings Dr. Sarah Bell from Cardiac Care for Pets in Louisville.

Dr. Jim Naughton, always a great speaker, rounds out our year at Rick's Boatyard on November 15th. The November meeting is also our business meeting so please think about becoming more involved as a board member or nominate a colleague.

Mark your calendars and we will see you at the upcoming meetings!
